If Gossip We Must

Heartiest congratulations are due to Mrs. Grossman for her most successful production of this thrilling play Ten Minute Alibi which opened its run at the Royal Naval Canteen Theatre on Saturday night. Those who attended the first night were rewarded by a brilliant performance. The plot is convincing and the interest is so well sustained that the audience is held tense and spellbound until the final climax which brings down the curtain.

The play deals with the summary justice meted out by a modern young man in his desperate effort to save his sweetheart from a particularly unpleasant type of villain. This part was marvellously portrayed by John Robertson who gave a brilliant performance as the suave and sinister "Sevilla." It is a difficult part for it is almost a dual-role since he has not only to shew his character as an unscrupulous scoundrel (utterly ruthless and prepared to stick at nothing in his greed for money) he must also convey to his audience all the charm and fascination in his love scenes with "Betty" which make him irresistible to women, and thus justifies her infatuation.

When we say that John Robertson was equally successful in depicting both sides of Sevilla's character we pay a very high compliment to the polished perfection of his acting. Gerald Nigel, as the hero, proved an excellent foil and gave a natural and earnest interpretation of the part of "Derwent." We see him first as an awkward nervous youth, goaded to desperation and driven reluctantly to crime as the only means of saving the girl, he is changed before our eyes into a cold-blooded murderer who calculates with mathematical exactitude the ten minute alibi which will give him his only chance of escaping detection. Gerald Nigel held the sympathy of his audience from the word go, and gave a moving interpretation of the part of the young lover.

A BIG RECEPTION.
Veronica Evans was the only woman in the caste and acquitted herself admirably. She displayed a great deal of charm in her unsophisticated attempts at worldly wisdom, in her early scenes, and her unforced sweetness was so appealing that we must forgive her if she failed occasionally in the tragic moments later on.

Eric Brooks gave a simply splendid performance as the obsequious valet, and came out strongly in the scene where he is badgered by the detectives.

Sydney West as the French Cafe Manager made a vivid impression and somehow succeeded in creating a complete personality out of a tiny part in which he is very clearly heard. No mean feat, this. Roger Lindell was very good as a tasty old lawyer, and Kenneth Kemble was amusing as the Police Sergeant, and a good many laughs out of a scene that might easily have become tedious. Philip Bailey Jones was inclined to play rather too slowly... a fault which will probably improve when he is word-perfect.

The performers had a big reception after the last curtain, and the "Leading Lady" received some glorious baskets of flowers.

"THOSE PRESENT"

The house was well filled by an audience that appeared to follow the plot with almost breathless interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley King arrived with a large party which included Mr. Grayburn, Mr. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. George Tinson and Mr. and Mrs. Bellamy.

Dr. and Mrs. Black were with Mr. and Mrs. Eric Mitchell (who, by the way, was wearing a lace dress of a particularly attractive shade of sapphire blue). Lady Furnival and Mr. Dent were not far behind, the former most lovely in dark green and fur. Dr. and Mrs. Moore were with Mrs. Lindell and her Niece Miss Molleson, who looked extremely pretty in a coat of white fur. Mrs. Kemble looked charming as always, and was watching with great interest. She herself played a leading part in the last A.D. production "Nine Till Six."

There were a great many "stag-parties" in the stalls down below and we noticed Mr. Henry Dennis, Mr. Barrow, Mr. Hamilton, Mr. Hancock with his two pretty daughters, and many others. There are further performances to-morrow and on the 23rd and a final performance on Saturday 24th.

In addition to the league matches on Saturday, there were a number of English and Scottish cup-tie matches. The best game was perhaps that between Tottenham and Aston Villa when the latter won by the only goal scored during the game.

In the Scottish matches, the Rangers and Hearts were engaged in a gruelling battle which ended with the score sheet blank.

RIFLE SHOOTING

Competition For British Subjects

With the warm approval and support of the Dominions, Colonial and Foreign Offices the National Rifle Association has instituted a 303 Full Range Postal Match for teams of 8 British Subjects or British Protected persons resident or stationed in 48 Colonies, Protectorates and Countries of the Empire.

The conditions are similar to those of the "Morning Post" (Junior Kolapore) Match, to compete in which many of them already send teams to Bisley each year.

The Match may be fired under official supervision, on any day between 1st January and 31st December, and on any range in the competing country, the certified results will be sent to the N. R.A. for adjudication.

A Challenge Cup and Medals will be awarded to the team of the winning Colony or Country.

The attendance of Overseas Teams from British Dominions and Possessions at Bisley's Imperial Meeting has of recent years been most encouraging. Since 1928 no less than 82 teams from 20 different countries in the four Continents have visited Bisley in July to compete with the Mother Country, or with one another for the Senior and Junior Kolapore Prizes. The expenses of sending teams from such remote places as the Falkland Islands, Trinidad, Ceylon and Hong Kong are very heavy, and make it impossible to hope for annual visits from every one, but the proposed Match will help to keep inter-country rivalry alive, and it is hoped may lead to an even wider representation of Overseas Teams at Bisley.

LOCH NESS—WITH OR WITHOUT MONSTER

Sea Serpent Or Pre-Historic Reptilian Survivor Freed By Blasting

From the earliest times the Scottish Highlands have been a region of mystery and legend, an effect ascribed to the somewhat mystical and highly poetical mentality of the inhabitants. They saw—and it is rumoured, still see—things not visible to ordinary mortal eyes; "second sight" was a recognised and fairly frequent phenomenon, and the woods and hills around them were the haunt of faeries and elves.

In recent years, however, the Highlands have been "opened up," railway run along the glens and great highways cross the mountains. Prosaic Anglo-Saxon eyes have viewed these hills and lochs, these glens and moors, and have seen their beauty, but no more. Highlanders still have their songs and their poetry, but their country is no longer unknown land, and becoming known, has emerged from the mists of legend and fairy-tale. Or so it was thought until the autumn of 1933.

About that time paragraphs began to appear about something strange in Loch Ness. Local inhabitants had seen something large and alive in the water, where normally nothing bigger than a salmon lives and moves. It was seen again, and again.

Lived A Thousand Years? The newspaper paragraphs grew longer and the headlines bigger. Papers of other countries took up the tale, and soon the whole world was reading of "the Loch Ness Monster."

Reporters and photographers began to haunt the shores of the loch, and learned professors gave their opinions as to what this strange visitor might be. Meanwhile, its lusty splashes continued to disturb the tranquil waters of Loch Ness until quite a large number of people had been vouchsafed a glimpse of it, without, however, making it possible to offer any explanation of what it was or how it got there.

That is the position to-day. Few now doubt that there is something in Loch Ness, but the theories as to what it is are numerous and contradictory. There is the giant eel school of thought, closely allied to the giant newt theory. Others say it is only a seal, or even a walrus. Believers in the sea-serpent are happily saying "I told you so!" but perhaps the most pleasing theory of all is that this is some reptilian survivor from pre-historic times: has lived in the depths of Loch Ness for thousands of years, and has only now come to the surface, disturbed by blasting operations in connection with the reconstruction of the road along the lochside.

Kelpie Stories Justified?

Now many of the ancient Highland legends have to do with kelpies, strange water-beasts, the presence of which struck terror into whole neighbourhoods. Tales of them have usually been ascribed to the vivid imagination of uneducated people living in wild and lonely, sometimes eerie surroundings. But here we have something happening in Loch Ness in 1933, and in 1934, too, and the people who have seen the "monster" are educated people, in regular contact with the outside world. May not the old kelpie stories spring from a similar cause, and were the Highlanders of old as superstitious as the world has been led to believe?

In any case, this summer, when the holiday season comes round,

CAR DRIVER KILLED

Accident At Kowloon Tong

An Austin Seven, No. 1257, was involved in a serious accident in Waterloo road, Kowloon on Saturday afternoon when it crashed through the railings of the nullah, killing its driver and seriously injuring its two other occupants, in an attempt to avoid two push cyclists.

The driver, Ho Sang, of 83, Nullah Lane, first floor, was killed instantly, while the other two occupants of the car, Li Fun-pun, of 135, Yin Chow Street, Shumshulpo, and his wife, Foon Chi-ho, received serious injuries and were removed to the Kwong Wah Hospital.

The two cyclists also fell into the nullah, and one, Fung Lai Hung, of 13, Battery Street, Yau-mat, had to be taken to the Kwong Wah Hospital. The other, Leung Hoi, aged 21, of 200 Temple Street, Yau-mat, was only slightly injured. The car was completely wrecked.

It is certain that many thousands will flock to the Loch Ness district, and even if they see no "monster," they will not come in vain. Loch Ness, with or without monsters, is worth coming a long way to see.

TRAINING GALLOPS

FAST TIMES SEEN LAST SATURDAY: AUSTRALIAN PONIES WARMING UP

(BY "MORNING DEW")

There were several fast gallops at the course on Saturday when a number of people lined the rails to watch the ponies at work. With the exception of D. S. Li, who with S. W. Pan and S. Y. Sung arrived on Friday, there were no Shanghai jockeys on the course and a good number of local jockeys were also absent, having gone to Canton. Prima Donna did a very neat mile and a quarter in 2.43.1 seconds, finishing strongly.

Tummel and Ribble went over the full Derby distance but although the first mile was quite impressive, the finish was far from good. Zero, Oak Bay, Soldier of China were among the griffins which finished well.

In the subscription griffins class, Bran Tub did a mile in 2.16.3, but the finish was slow. Copper Idol also returned this time, but the finish was far from good.

King Willow, Young Hero, and In Good Time went very well while Chesterfield went over six furlongs in 1.39.4, which, comparatively speaking, is very good indeed.

D. S. Li tried out Able Amazon and the pony came home in a mile gallop, in 2.01, running freely. Dinty made a welcome re-appearance in the course and his three-quarter mile of 1.32.2 was very fast, since the last quarter was only 27.2 and the last half 57.2.

JUNGLE MYSTERY

Thriller At The Central

A million thrills—a gripping story—the lurking dangers of a treacherous jungle—a beautiful girl in the clutches of a villainous gang—snarling beasts—a half human-half animal creature who terrified all Africa in his mysterious, devastating quest for blood!

That's Universal's billion volts of screen action, "Jungle Mystery" now showing at the Central Theatre.

Tom Tyler plays the adventurous young American explorer of the jungle—Cecilia Parker, blonde and beautiful, plays the heroine and Noah Beery Jr., William Desmond and Philo McCullough are all in the truly excellent cast. Famous Talbot Mundy wrote the story.

Here is a picture with a thousand thrills and you can see it to-day at the Central Theatre at popular prices.

"HELLO HONG KONG"

Five weeks is either an awfully long time, or equally short time, depending on circumstances. In the show business, it is an excitingly short time, as Henry Bellitt will tell you if you were to ask him. The "five weeks" subject was brought up in connection with the Broadway Revue which will be presented in Hongkong at the Queen's Theatre this week.

Henry had just that much time to form his company, write the show, select his personnel, order the costumes, stage settings and other accessories, rehearse the company and get to Hongkong, thousands of miles from little old New York City.

Most of the rehearsing was done on the broad Pacific en route to Hongkong. In New York, Henry had to pick his twelve girls from 5000 who presented themselves for the trip—no small job in itself. Each had to meet Henry's ideals for his show. They must have talent, beauty, form, stage presence, and that element better known as "it."

In addition to the human element Henry brings the newest electrical equipment for the most startling lighting and sound effects. In one of the latter it is safe to say you will start looking for your umbrellas, the "rain" effect is so realistic.

How Bill Moran got in the show might interest you. Bill's former contract with another company expired on January 14th. He was up in Massachusetts; Henry in New York. Long distance telephone did the job. Henry says, "Bill, we will see you on the ship; I'll be there." And Bill is coming, suspending on everything to prove that people are right when they say he is among the world's best comedians. It's All Wiser who is with him in the laugh stuff.

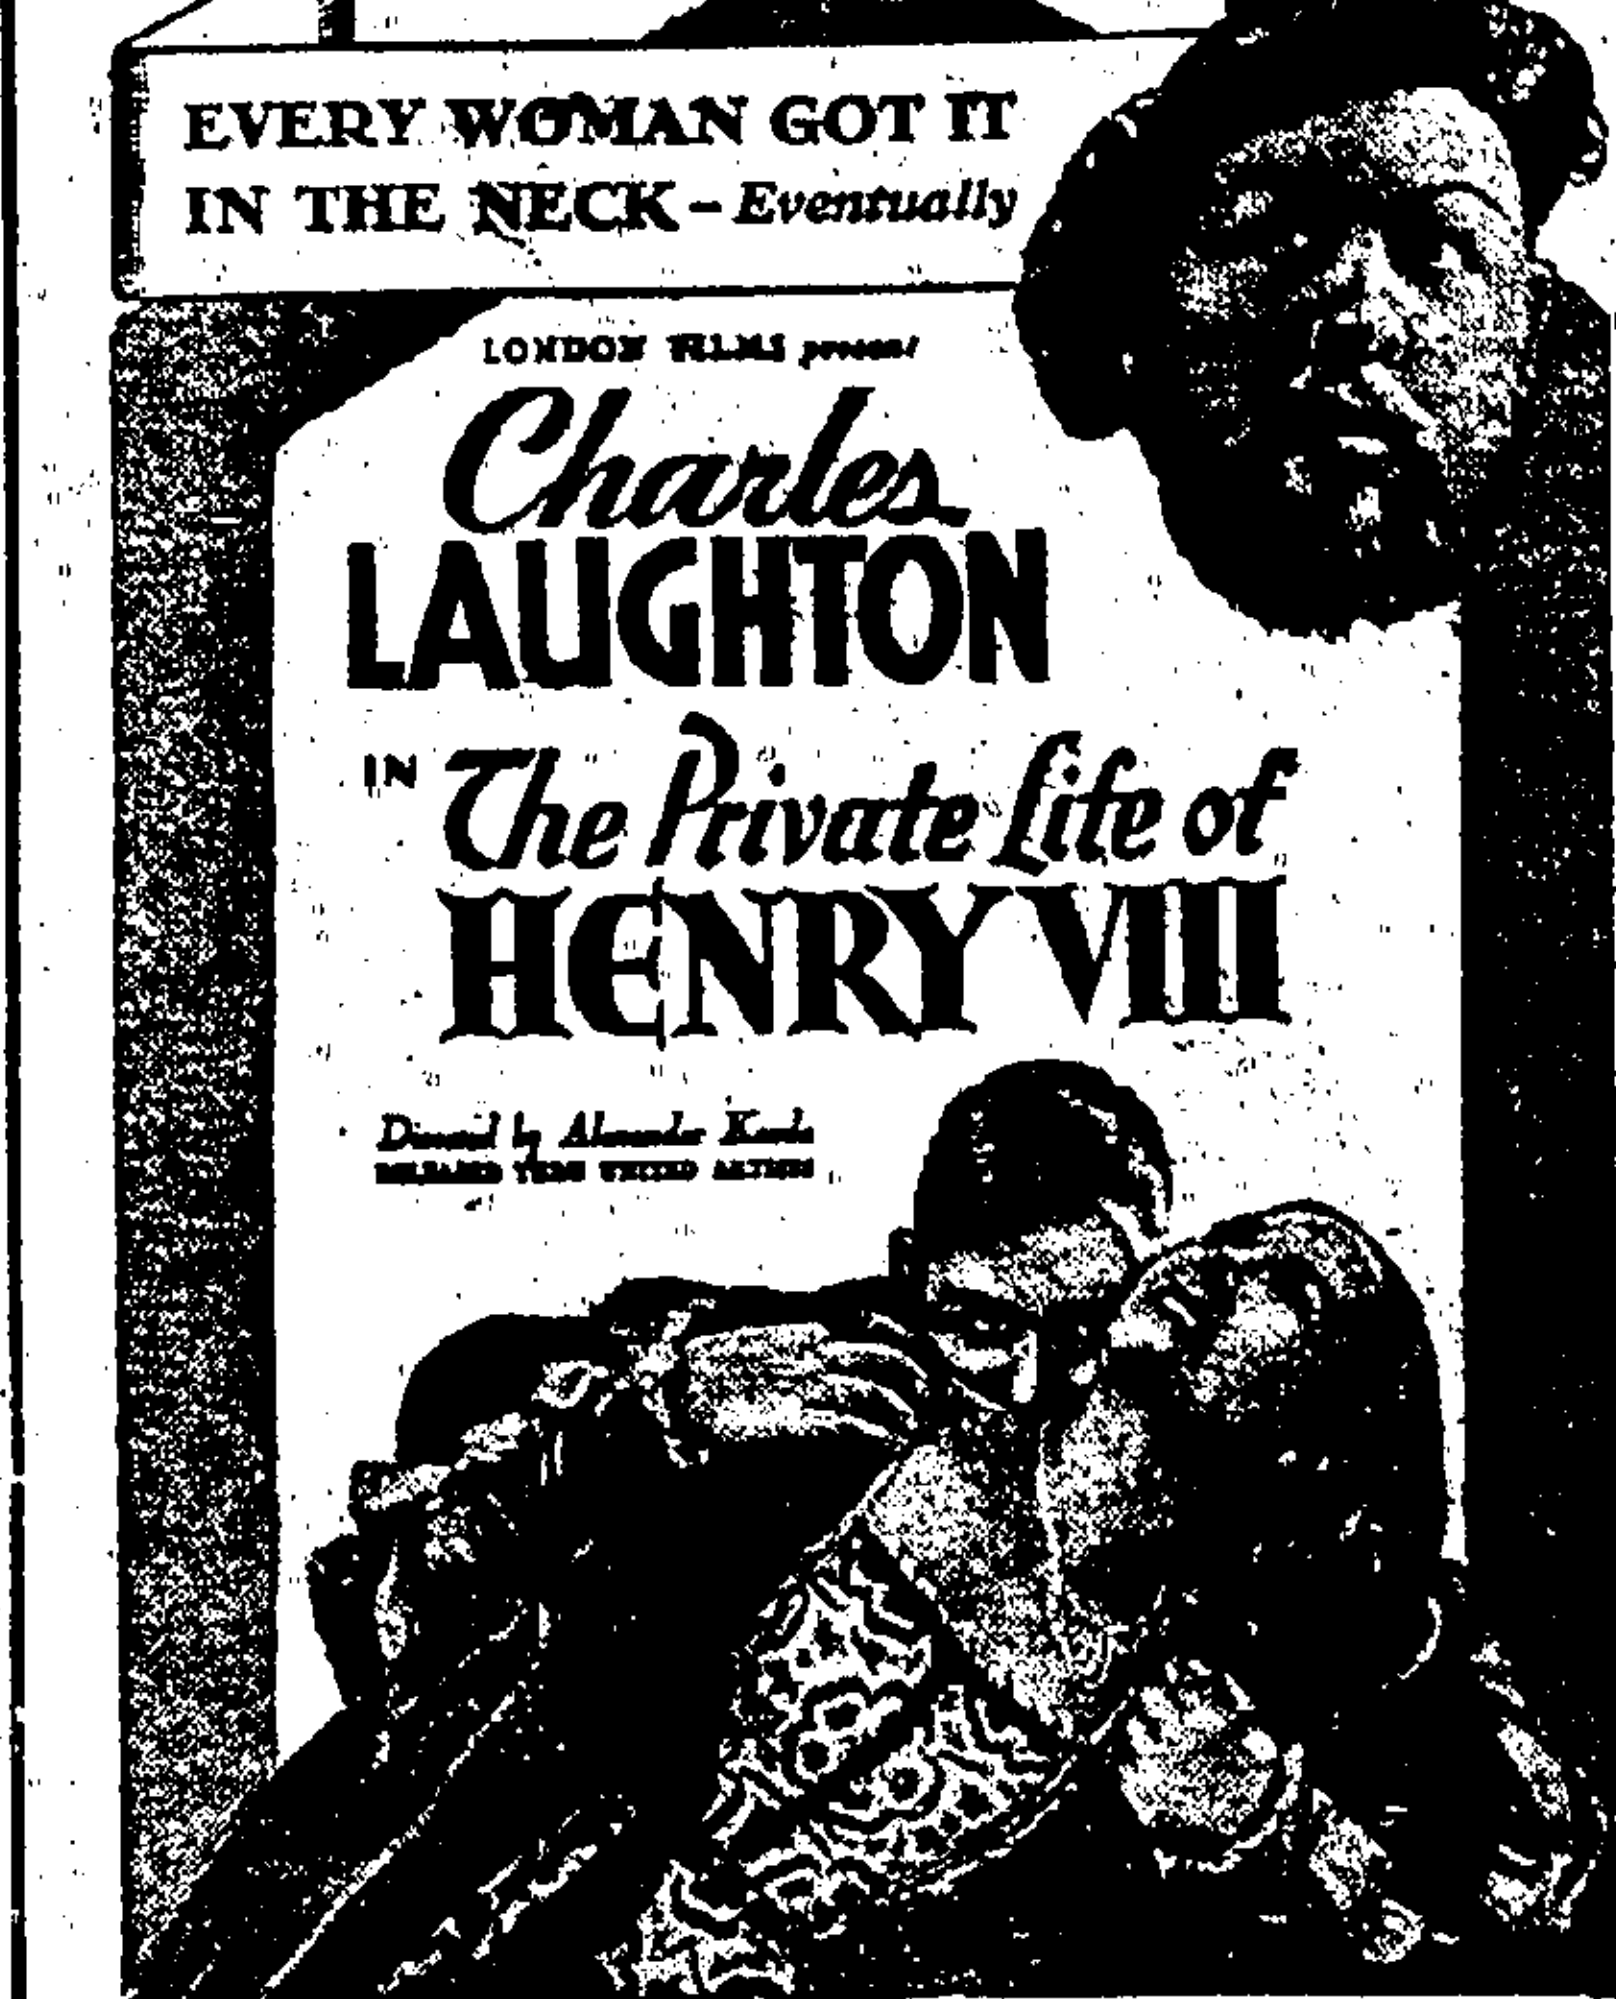

What the short space of five weeks can do can best be judged by yourself. Our opinion is that you will come back for more because every one of the 20 artists in the Revue are coming to give you the best in them.

SHOWING TO-DAY AT 2.30, 5.10, 7.15 & 9.30 P.M.

MISS FEARON WINS AGAIN.

Big Attendance At Kwanti Races

LOCH NESS PAYS $52 FOR A PLACE.

(By "MORNING DEW")

Glorious sunshine favoured the Fanling Hunt and Race Club's meeting at Kwanti yesterday where there was a fairly large attendance.

The fields were on the small side, but there was no want of keenness in the racing. Miss Fearon again won the Ladies Mile, while honours in the remaining events were evenly distributed.

The biggest dividend paid during the afternoon was on Loch Ness, a pony which finished third in the sixth race. Supporters of this candidate received $52 for a $2 ticket.

FESTIVAL EVE WINS FIRST RACE

In the first race Festival Eve with Mr. Stanton riding had little difficulty in accounting for White Heather (Mr. Kemble) and The Goat (Mr. Yates). The Goat stayed together with the other two over the first half mile, but thereafter slid back gradually and in the home straight had a tumble two hurdles from the finish, when many lengths behind. Meanwhile White Heather stayed with Festival Eve over the whole of the first mile, when Mr. Stanton's mount gradually drew ahead and won comfortably.

Burgomaster Wins
Burgomaster (Mr. Jordan) and Duke of Milan (Mr. Hope) were the only starters in the hurdles over a mile and three quarters. The former won fairly comfortably by three lengths. The pace throughout was on the slow side.

Hope Wins
Even 176 pounds did not stop Mr. J. W. Hope from bringing The Gadwall to victory in the Grand Military Hurdle Race and Sassoon Cup over a mile and half hurdles. Stickypast led a long way ahead in this race and after six furlongs he was only followed by The Gadwall who passed him on the bend just before entering the straight, and won easily. Mackinlay on The Curlew just ousted Pink Gin from a place.

Canberra Steeplechase
The Australian race was somewhat disappointing because only three ponies started and of these, one refused to jump. With the other two, Kilrea was too good for Kibbel (late Winter's Tale), and accounted for him by more than a furlong.

The Ladies' Mile
There were nine starters for the ladies mile race, of which No. Fear (with Miss Fearon up) was favourite. After a false start, the field was sent off evenly. Miss Fearon took the lead, accompanied by Mrs. Portman on Cloudy Eve, and followed closely by Glen Shee and Devon. There was not much change of position until the field entered the straight, when No. Fear led from Cloudy Eve by three lengths, with Glen Shee quickly catching up. The race finished with No. Fear winning easily and Glen Shee getting the better of Devon came up with a big rush in the home straight.

Christmas Belle
The first cross-country race drew ten starters and provided a comparatively easy win for Christmas Belle with Red Leaves taking second place from Loch Ness, ridden by Mr. Yates. The last named paid 25-1 for a place!

The Second Cross-Country
The second section of the cross-country race drew thirteen starters. The race fell to Mr. Stanton's Skewbald Griffin who won easily from Toby by many lengths, with Aircraft taking third place. There were a number of spills here, Grand Slam, ridden by Mr. Jenkin being one of the greatest sufferers, coming down heavily in the country.

INTERPORT FOOTBALL

Tientsin Beat Hong Kong

Shanghai, February 18.
Tientsin have surprisingly shared the honours with Shanghai in the Triangular Interport Soccer series as the result of their lucky win over Hong Kong, the wooden-spoonists, by 4 goals to 2 to-day.

As in their game against Shanghai the Colony team showed a definite superiority over their opponents, but their forwards refused to shoot when the opportunity afforded, and Tientsin snapped up their chances to win by a comfortable margin after leading by 3 goals to 1 at the interval.

A crowd of 8,000, as compared with 12,000 who saw Shanghai beat Hong Kong, were present in poor weather, a steady drizzle falling throughout the game.

Hong Kong were again dogged by the worst luck. They outplayed Tientsin for three quarters of the game, but the refusal of the forwards to shoot was the main cause for the Colony's defeat. They literally made rings round the Tientsin defence, but sorely lacked the essential finishing touches.

Strange, A. V. Gosano, B. Gosano, and Hocquard were the outstanding players in the Colony team, which combined, in perfect manner.

A sensational start to the game was provided when A. V. Gosano cut through the Tientsin defence to score the first goal, three minutes after the kick-off.

From a centre, however, Rodger equalised, and, though the Colony team dominated play as the result of perfect combination, Tientsin secured the lead when after 20 minutes Jones scored from one of the few breakaways. Ten minutes later Jones scored again from a rebound from the crossbar, and Tientsin crossed over at half time with a lead of 3 goals to 1.

A Penalty Appeal
Hong Kong commenced the second half in aggressive style and had the Northerners penned in their own goal area, but the forwards were most feeble in their shooting, there being innumerable missed chances.

Hocquard scintillated with wonderful passes, and it was from one of these that A. V. Gosano headed into the net to reduce the arrears. Encouraged by this success the Colony team continued to press most vigorously for the equaliser, and the Tientsin goal was subjected to many sensational hair-breadth escapes.

After the referee had ignored a unanimous Hong Kong appeal for a penalty, when a stinger from A. V. Gosano struck the hand of a Tientsin defender, the Northerners ran away to net their fourth goal, and thus made the match safe.—Reuter.

FINAL STANDINGS.
The following are the final standings:—

BIG DIVIDENDS AT CANTON

Flying Boy Pays Over $110 For A Win

HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI JOCKEYS PARTICIPATE

Aided by the presence of a strong contingent of jockeys from Hong Kong and Shanghai, the second charity race meeting at Canton proved a great success and was attended by what must have been a record crowd for a race course in China.

Some big dividends were paid during Saturday, Mr. Marshall bringing home Flying Boy in the seventh race, to pay $111.20 for a win. Earlier in the afternoon he brought in City of Shanghai to pay $65.40 to his supporters.

Another big dividend was paid when Mr. P. P. Botelho brought in Potsdam in the fifth race on Saturday.

SEA VIEW BEST MACAO SUB.

Sea View won on both days and proved to be a very dependable little pony. He appears to be the best Macao Sub.

Mr. Marshall was the most successful jockey of the meeting, riding four winners.

Paris, Feb. 17. Further devaluation on the French franc to the extent of 16 per cent is demanded by the Radical Socialist Deputy Moutet in a letter to Premier Doumergue in which he states that France must emulate the example set by Great Britain and the United States and Japan in order to enable the French export industry to compete successfully in the world's markets. —Transocean Kuo Min.

DUTCH DEFENCE IN FAR EAST

"Holland Will Rely On Her Own Resources"

The Hague, February 17. In the Dutch Senate yesterday the Minister for Defence, Dr. L. N. Deckers, declared that the Netherlands had not entered, and did not intend entering, any defence treaty in the Far East.

Holland, he said, would depend upon her own resources for defence interests.

SPAIN AND THE VATICAN

Relations Become Strained

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1931. Received, February 18, 4.30 a.m.)

Madrid, February 17. Relations between Spain and the Vatican are somewhat strained in consequence of the recent address delivered by the Papal Nuncio in the Madrid Cathedral, in the course of which he severely criticised certain Spanish laws.

It is understood that the Spanish Government sent a Note to the Vatican protesting against the Nuncio's utterances and pointing out that all churches in Spain are the property of the State and are put at the disposal of religious bodies solely for the purpose of worship and not for political purposes.

Informed quarters assume that the proposed appointment of an Ambassador at the Holy See will be postponed for the time being. —Transocean Kuo Min.

Vatican Breaks Of Negotiations

Vatican City, February 18. Negotiation between the Vatican and Germany for the completion of the Concordat signed last summer have been suspended and Herr Buttman, the Reich representative, has returned to Germany.

It is understood that the Vatican told him that under present circumstances the negotiations could not lead to any conclusion.

The main points hitherto unsettled are:—

Hitler's desire to reduce the existing Catholic Associations on the grounds that some are partly political.

Secondly, Baden's attempt to suppress the Catholic schools.

Thirdly, the Catholic tendencies of Germany to-day. —Reuter.

Bulgarians Now Russians

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.))

Moscow, February 17. Dimitroff, Popoff and Tanoff—the three Bulgarian Communists tried for complicity in the burning of the Reichstag but who were acquitted—were admitted to Russian citizenship on Friday in response to applications made by relatives of all three and after their native country, Bulgaria, had refused to receive them back or to recognise their citizenship if released by the Reich. —Transocean Kuo Min.

GERMAN SHORT-TERM CREDITS

Berlin, February 17. Negotiations which started on February 5 regarding German short-term credit ended in an agreement on Friday.

The agreement is to take effect on February 28, when the existing agreement comes to an end. The new agreement goes on till February 28, 1935 and combines a volume of credit amounting at the present rate, to 2.6 milliards of Marks.

This agreement is very satisfactory from the German point of view, since it makes no provisions for a reduction in the volume of credit as did the two preceding agreements. This is a great advantage to Germany at the moment when the stimulation of her economic situation, and increased imports of raw materials must be financed. Moreover, Germany's present difficulties in meeting her short-term creditors were realised and it was agreed that no further repayment of these credits is expected before February, 1935. Arrangements made in the last agreement, which had worked excellently, resulted in a payment of about 500 million marks without making any large inroad into stock for foreign exchange. —Transocean Kuo Min.

KING OF THE BELGIANS KILLED

TRAGIC INCIDENT IN THE MEUSE VALLEY

Monarch Misses Footing On Mountain Side

CROWN PRINCE AND PRINCE CHARLES SUMMONED TO BRUSSELS

Death Deplored Throughout Europe

Brussels, February 18.

THE KING OF THE BELGIANS IS DEAD.—Reuter.

The Belgian King was killed in a mountaineering accident. He was driving his own car accompanied by a servant.

The King set out to climb Rocher de Marche des Dames, near Namur and while making the ascent his car skidded and fell down a ravine. His body was recovered at 2 a.m. with a deep wound in the head. He undoubtedly died instantly.—Reuter.

The body of the King was found at the foot of a lonely ravine down which his car had fallen.

The body was brought to the Palace of Laeken, Brussels, at 3.30 a.m., where all Ministers were urgently summoned to be present to receive the remains.

Prince Leopold, the heir to the throne, who is in Switzerland was immediately informed of the King's death and is returning to Brussels this evening. Prince Charles is returning immediately from Ostend.—Reuter.

An urgent meeting of the Cabinet has been held but no statement in regard to its decision will be made until after the return of the Crown Prince.

The district in which the accident occurred is in wild mountainous borders in the Valley of the Meuse where the roads have sharp angles with steep descents to Meuse. The opinion is given that it is possible the car skidded and plunged over an embankment in the fog and darkness.—Reuter.

Brussels, February 18.

The nation was stunned at the news of the King's death and refused to credit the report until special mourning editions of papers confirmed the worst fears.

The sad news was conveyed throughout the country to mayors and heads of departments. Church bells tolled a knell and flags were everywhere at half mast.

At a Cabinet meeting this morning it was provisionally decided to hold the funeral on February 22, but there will be no final decision until the Duke of Brabant returns.

The Government in a proclamation to the Belgian people says that this terrible accident has robbed Belgium of a chief of whom she was so proud. Belgium offers homage to the Queen in her grief and hails the Crown Prince, who with God's help will continue his father's noble work.—Reuter.

TRAGEDY CONFIRMED

Brussels, February 18.

It is confirmed that King Albert was killed while mountaineering and not in a motor accident.

His Majesty accompanied by a valet left yesterday afternoon by motor for the hill district of Marche des Dames, five miles west of Namur, intending to climb a difficult part, the ascent of which is dangerous in the present season owing to the presence of projecting ice.

In accordance with custom he left his valet in his car with instructions to await his Majesty's return in about an hour, but when the King failed to return his valet grew anxious. He left the car and fruitlessly searched the hillside. Finally he telephoned to Brussels that the King was missing. Unearthly silence simultaneously began to be felt in Brussels as the King was expected to return in the evening to attend a sports fete at 8.30 and when he had not arrived officials communicated with the Palace, but no news been received.—Reuter.

IMMEDIATE SEARCH

A search was immediately instituted and a number of principal authorities drove to the spot. The police and the whole population from the surrounding country assisted in the search, but it was not until 2 a.m. that the body was found at the foot of a steep cliff overhanging the road from Namur to Marche des Dames. The King had apparently missed his footing and was killed instantly. It was found his skull was fractured and a deep wound at the base of the neck. An hour and a half later the body was brought to Palace of Laeken, Brussels.—Reuter.

QUEEN INFORMED

Queen Elizabeth was first informed only that an accident had happened. It was not until 6 a.m. that the news of the King's death was broken to her.

An urgent meeting of the cabinet was held this morning. It meets at 11 a.m. and executive power will be administered by Ministers in Council until the new King has taken the Oath, but Prince Leopold and Princess Astrid cannot arrive from Switzerland until this evening.

The road at the scene of the accident is most narrow and is bordered with steep jagged cliffs which sometimes reach a height of six hundred feet. The late King was particularly attached to this district in the Ardennes which is extremely picturesque and afforded opportunities of "long tramps" when he was unable to visit his favourite haunts in Switzerland. People living near the scene of the tragedy appear fairly well informed as to what occurred. They declare the late King fell when climbing rocks. All traffic in the district is now stopped and nobody is permitted to approach the scene.

A commission of inquiry visited the scene during the night and has returned to Brussels for further inquiries.—Reuter.

DEATH DEPLORED

London, February 18.

The tragic death of King Albert is deplored throughout Europe. Heartfelt tributes are paid to his sincerity and devotion to his country.

The news was conveyed to King George at Buckingham Palace early in the morning, the King and Queen Mary sent a personal message of condolence to Queen Elizabeth.

Two weeks' Court mourning has been ordered from February 20. Many stories are recalled of King Albert's war time heroism by Sir Roger Keyes who was an intimate friend. He said King Albert's courage had not been surpassed by Belgian monarchs. He lived in the latter part of the war in a villa at Lapanne within the range of the enemies' guns but was covered from the sea by ships of the Dover Patrol.

King Albert was greatly loved in England and was intensely interested in Nelson's Victory. He never tired of discussing stirring events of the war.—Reuter.

HOW THE TRAGEDY OCCURRED

Brussels, February 18. An inspection of the spot where King Albert's body was found at the foot of a wall of rock near the little Shrine off the Namur road makes it clear how the tragedy occurred. After spending some time climbing other parts of the mountains the King came to the Old Shrine, about fifty yards from Namur on the Marche des Dames road which is bounded on one side by the River Meuse and on the other by a massive crown of rocks. Here towards a 250 foot crag with a concave face with many small projecting foot and hand holds. The King evidently was climbing up this rock and grasped a piece of rock which had been split by recent frost. His hold gave way and the King crashed back upon his head then rolled down the steep corridor between the two masses of rock towards the road to a rocky platform near the Shrine. The King's pince-nez were found near the spot where the fall evidently started. His haversack was also found caught in the rocks a few yards lower. The King was accompanied by his Aide de Camp, Count de Cunnine a grand Marshal in the Queen's household, who gave the first alarm when the night began to fall that the King had not returned.—Reuter.

NEWS SPREADS LIKE WILDFIRE

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, February 18, 7.50 p.m.)

Brussels, February 18. King Albert I of the Belgians was killed as a result of a motor car accident which occurred while the King was motoring to Rocher de Marche des Dames, near Namur, when the King's car plunged heading into a precipice. Death must have occurred instantaneously.

The King had left early on Saturday and the Royal drivers' absence gave cause for serious concern in the Royal Household, although well after midnight on Saturday the King, quite contrary to his usual practice, had not returned home. At 2 o'clock on Sunday morning the King's body with a fractured skull was discovered.

News of the terrible disaster that had befallen the beloved King spread like wildfire.

Flags were immediately hoisted at half-mast and National mourning has been ordered for the army. Prayers were said in all churches for the repose of the monarch's soul.

The disaster has plunged the nation into the deepest grief and all amusements, concerts and so forth, have been cancelled for today.

The late King Albert, as a prince travelled widely, visiting America, England and the Belgian Congo.

On December 1, 1909 Prince Albert took the Oath of Fidelity to the Belgian Constitution and became King under the name of Albert I. In his speech from the Throne, the King emphasised his care for his peoples' welfare in the following words, "Our prosperity depends upon the prosperity of the masses."—Transocean Kuo Min.

A RESPECTED SOVEREIGN

King Albert I was born in 1875 in Brussels and was carefully educated. He devoted much time to the special study of economics and social science and travelled extensively on the Continent, in the Belgian Congo and in the United States. In the latter country he made a study of railways under the supervision of James H. Hill.

He married Princess Elizabeth of Bavaria in 1900, and their elder son, the Duke of Brabant, was born in 1901. Two other children, a son and a daughter, were born in 1903 and 1906 respectively. The Duke of Brabant married Princess Astrid of Sweden in 1926. The late King Albert was a second cousin of King George V. of Great Britain and of ex-Kaiser Wilhelm II. He was the son of Philip, Count of Flanders, the younger brother of King Leopold II. Leopold II, King Albert's predecessor, left no sons, and as his daughters were excluded from the throne by the Salic Law, Albert succeeded to the throne on the death of King Leopold in 1909.

When the Germans invaded Belgium in 1914, King Albert, despite the pleas of his loving subjects placed himself at the head of his army. He suffered the dangers and hardships of active leadership uncompromisingly.

The late King Albert was one of the most respected sovereigns of the world. Until the German invasion, his country was peaceful and prosperous, and yet he was constantly working for the improvement of his subjects whom he loved. He was scholarly and active; had striven for directness and honesty in his dealings with other European rulers; and in private life had set a standard that anyone might well follow. It was because of his vitality and his unbounded concern for them that the Belgian people idolized their late King.

The Japanese nation who highly admire the valour of the Belgian King presented him in 1915 with a Sixteenth Century Sword of exquisite workmanship. King Albert stood out as one of the most heroic figures in the Great War, because of his attitude in preferring war to dishonour by refusing to sanction the marching of German armies through Belgium to attack France, and his bravery for always being at the head of his troops in the field.

Throughout the war, he and his brave Consort kept to the small part of Belgium that had not been captured by the Germans, and resisted all attempts of the latter to separate Belgium from the Allies. In September 1914, King Albert received the Cross of Knight of St. George from the late Tsar, and King George V. conferred upon him the Order of the Garter during his visit to Belgium in 1914.

DISARMAMENT PROBLEM

Germany's Level Too Low

London, February 17.

In a speech at Brighton, yesterday, the Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simon, asked what use there was in proposing that all nations should disarm to Germany's level when there was not the slightest chance of such a proposal being accepted.

"Would either the United States or Japan agree?" he asked.

"If an international agreement on armaments, even a limited one, could be reached, a new chapter would be opened in the world's history," he said.

If all efforts failed, the world would relapse into unregulated competition for the supply and manufacture of weapons, with results that none could foresee.—Reuter.

INFORMATION WANTED.

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, February 18, 7.50 p.m.)

Paris, Feb. 18.

A semi-official commentary on Captain Eden's conversations with the French makes it plain that the purpose of information only. The chief point of the Franco-British discussion will be tackled only after Captain Eden's return from Berlin and Rome.

Saturday's discussions, so it is stated, did not centre around the potential disarmament meeting to be attended by seven or eight of the big Powers, while the Austrian question was only cursorily referred to.—Transocean Kuo Min.

CRITICISM IS EASY

London, Feb. 17.

Lord Privy Seal Capt. Anthony Eden was meeting the French Premier Doumergue and Foreign Secretary Barthou in Paris today to discuss with them and ascertain their views on the British disarmament memorandum for which purpose he is later meeting ministers in Berlin and Rome.

Meanwhile, a powerful appeal for support of the British Government's disarmament policy was made last night at a meeting at Brighton by the Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon. Agreement on the lines of the British memorandum, he said, would open a new chapter in World's history. Though restricted in scope, it would prove to the World that limitation of armaments was a practical conception and would justify and promote more thorough-going reductions in future. The alternative was a "world-wide relapse into 'unregulated competition in supply and manufacture of weapons of destruction with results that no man can foresee'."

Referring to expressions of regret from a body of British opinion that the British proposals were not more far-reaching Sir John Simon said, "If we mean to use our best efforts in securing international agreement it is useless to proclaim the beauty of some ideal solution which cannot be attained and the only valuable proposal is the one which aims after sifting every objection at reconciliation and compromise. If any one feels impelled to greet the British memorandum with criticism that it should be different we are entitled to ask that he should produce a set of proposals which in the light of present circumstances are more likely to command international acceptance than ours. It is going to be terribly difficult to get agreement in any case, but let it be granted that even if this effort or some further effort succeeds the result would fall far short of what many of us hoped for. Nevertheless, gain of international agreement would be so great that in comparison with this all other deficiencies melt completely away."—British Wire-less.

The British Government have asked the League to define the extent to which relations are permissible with the Manchukuo postal authorities, without involving the recognition of Manchukuo. IMPROVEMENT IN SILVER

Prices Rise In London

London, February 18.

The recent firmness of silver in London is due to the belief that the United States Government, influenced by silver interests in America, will shortly take action.

The position is vague, but it is believed that the Government may take over the huge New York stocks of metal at a price considerably higher than that in the open market.

The recent weakness of the dollar is believed to be due to the purchases of sterling by American speculators with a view to acquiring silver futures.

The dollar, however, has also weakened owing to the purchases of gold in London, as owing to the narrowness of the margin between the sterling gold price and the price based on the parity of the franc it is no longer profitable to purchase francs to withdraw gold from the Bank of France.

The franc continues on the down grade in sympathy with the dollar.—Reuter.

HUGE PURCHASES PROPOSED

Washington, February 18.

The House of Representatives member, Mr. J. Scrugham has introduced into the House a Bill requiring the Treasury to purchase at least 25,000,000 ounces of silver monthly for six months, and 10,000,000 ounces monthly thereafter until 1,000,000,000 ounces have been purchased or a 15 to 1 ratio to gold reached.

The monthly purchases would be reduced to 4,000,000 ounces if that commodity price level exceeded that of January 1, 1926.

Silver certificates would be issued against the purchases, redeemable in silver bullion in value to the gold equivalent at the time of redemption, and any redeemed to be replaced by added purchases. The House of Representatives silver advocates have decided to create a "Committee of a Hundred" headed by Mr. Fiesinger. They have circulated a resolution pledging the signatories to support a Bill requiring the Treasury to purchase 50,000,000 ounces monthly, provided such purchases do not exceed 1,000,000,000 ounces.

R. Navy v. Hong Kong F.C.

Playing on the Railway ground in the Junior Shield semi-final, the Navy defeated the Club by three goals to nil.

The Navy were pressing from the kick-off and early in the game Chappell beat Porro to open the score. The goal was a lucky one giving Porro no chance, the ball rebounding off the post into the net.

A goal by Potts for the Navy was disallowed and before the interval McNeill increased the Navy lead and Navy added to their score through McNeill and entered the final by three goals to nil.

Division II: Lincoln Regt. v. Kowloon F.C.

Playing on the Railway ground, the Lincoln defeated Kowloon by seven goals to one. Kowloon were hard pressed in the opening minutes, but the defence was quite equal to the attack. The persistent pressure of the Lincoln, however, got the upper hand and they went on to score seven goals before the final whistle sounded.

Division II: S.W. Borderers v. South China

At Sookunpoo these teams met to decide the winners of the division. South China being successful by four clear goals. The Borderers never seemed to settle down to team work throughout the match. South China showing fine combination and were full value for their win.

Division II: Athletic v. Young Indians

The referee was forced to abandon this match on the Military ground at Happy Valley owing to the crowd invading the field during an altercation by two of the players near touch line.

Division III: R.A.M.C. v. South China

At Sookunpoo, South China defeated the R.A.M.C. by three goals to two.

South China took the lead through Lan Wing Kwong, but the R.A.M.C. were not long in arrears. King going through to score.

Before the interval arrived, Cheung Ping Lun scored to give South China the lead, and in the second half Hui Yu Kwong scored for South China and Slater for the R.A.M.C.

Division III: Mok Sang was ordered off the field after previously being cautioned for dangerous play.

R.A.S.C. v. S.W. Borderers

Within the racecourse, the Borderers failed against the R.A.S.C. by three goals to two.

Taking the lead early in the game through Hamlyn, the Borderers appeared to have the match in hand, but O'Brien scored to put the teams on level terms when they crossed over.

Gormley put the Corps early in the second half in the lead, but a fine goal by Hamlyn, again put the teams on level terms. Both teams went out for the winning goal and just on time the R.A.S.C. scored through Gormley.

R.E. v. Radio

Rather a dull game on the Athletic ground ended in favour of the Engineers who scored in the closing minutes from a penalty kick. Several chances were offered to both teams during the opening half, but shooting was erratic.

On the Chatman Road ground, the Lincoln defeated the R.A.F. by three goals to two. The match was evenly contested and each team scored a goal against their own side.

University v. Recoile

On the Chatman Road ground, the Recoile defeated the University by five goals to two. Play opened in favour of the University and they took the lead through Tam. Campos levelled up for the Recoile and Santos (2), Ribeiro and Aquino also netted for the Recoile. Oliveira netted for the University before the final whistle sounded.

SUNDAY FOOTBALL

The Charity match for the Cheero Club Fund played on the Hong Kong F.C. ground between the Combined Chinese and the Rest, ended in favour of the latter by three clear goals.

The game was full of excitement throughout and although both goals had narrow escapes, the interval arrived with a blank score sheet.

Early in the second half the Rest took the lead, Stevens shooting in from a centre by Matthias.

The Chinese then had a turn and Ho Ka Keung was unlucky with a shot that had Cord beaten, but the ball hit the bar and later shot into Cord's hands.

Podmore put the Rest three up with a splendid shot from thirty yards, the ball entering the net just under the bar.

The Rest—Cord, Mullane, Morris, Podmore, Thompson, Wallace, Matthias, Ward, Stevens, E. Strang and Seal.

Combined Chinese—Wong Wing, Leung In Chan, Chung Fai Lam,

Caer Clark Cup Matches

CHAMPIONS' CONVINCING WIN

The Hong Kong Ladies' Hockey Club, holders of the Caer Clark Cup, scored another victory at Happy Valley on Saturday when they beat the Central British Schoolgirls by six goals to nil.

The Schoolgirls, although lacking in experience, put up a comparatively fine display, but were overwhelmed by a strong combination of fast forwards.

Miss Jean Dalziel (3) and Miss E. Bonnar (3) were the scorers. In their previous encounter the Schoolgirls were beaten by 8 goals to nil.

H.K. Ladies:—M. Bird; E. M. Gray, B. Hebling; M. Wallace, B. Pope, Mrs. M. K. Lowe, Miss Marsh, J. Dalziel, E. Bonnar, J. Churchill and Mrs. S. Adams.

ST. ANDREW'S BEAT RECREIO "B"

The St. Andrew's Ladies, nearest rivals to the Hong Kong Ladies, proved too strong for the Recreio "B" whom they beat by four clear goals at King's Park.

The Saints attacked for the greater part of the game, and but for shooting they might have got more goals.

Miss I. Gittins and Miss M. Woolley scored for the Saints in the first half, and Miss P. Gittins and Miss F. Wong were the scorers in the second half.

St. Andrew's:—Mrs. R. Rose; E. Landolt, G. White, M. Churn, I. Wolley and P. Everest, F. Wong, I. Rogers, M. Wolley, I. Gittins and P. Gittins.

"Y" LADIES DREW WITH C.B.A.

At King's Park the "Y" Ladies did well to draw with the Central British Ladies.

The Central British Ladies had the better of play in the first half, but after the interval the "Y" Ladies retaliated strongly, launching many strong attacks, and coming near to scoring on several occasions.

Mrs. M. Read, who made a welcome return to the team missed a certain goal after a brilliant solo effort, when she was robbed by Miss E. Beavis in the nick of time in the goalmouth.

Miss O. Brown also came near to scoring on several occasions, but was rather erratic in front of the goal. Miss Marie Smith was the most dangerous forward for the C.B.A., but her efforts were spoiled by Miss J. Weller who played a sound game in goal for the "Y."

"Y" Ladies:—J. Weller; Mrs. Portallion, A. Fowler; B. Bumenthal, E. Thomson, M. Gardner, V. Bradbury, Mrs. M. Read, R. Blackmore, T. Dennis and O. Brown.

SHANGHAI'S SPLENDID WIN Services Go Down To Superior Combination

The Shanghai Interport Rugby Team gained a very meritorious victory over the Combined Services winning by a goal and three tries (14 points) to two tries and a penalty goal (9 points).

R. D. K. Silby, the Shanghai skipper, was unable to play owing to an injury and H. W. Carter took his place in the pack. Shanghai again played only seven forwards and they were superior to the Services' scrum, contrary to expectations, as the latter contained five forwards who represented the Colony against the Australians as well as two others who were chosen but unable to play. Chambers hooked well for Shanghai and the latter's backs were given many opportunities to show their paces and quickly ran up a score of eleven points before the Services scored. The latter eventually adopted the seven forward formation and were then more successful in halting Shanghai's attacks.

The first score came when Tingle burst throughout. When tackled passed to Bidwell for the latter to score a try after dodging and swerving through a number of defenders. The angle was too difficult for Jenkins to convert. Shanghai continued to press and Grieve had a splendid run down the wing and passed inside to Younger when tackled for the latter to score a try which Bidwell converted.

Bad Combination

The Services did not combine at all well up to this point. Walker who played fly half instead of Cheyne was moved out to the wing and Irving took his place. The Services played improved after this but Shanghai soon scored again when the ball was cleanly heeled from a five yard scrum and was handled by each of the three-quarters for Bowerman to score in the corner. The kick at goal failed.

The Services forwards now got going and from a line out one yard from Shanghai's line Pascoe plunged over but Lloyd did not convert.

Soon after the interval the Services scored again when Lloyd converted a penalty right in front of the posts when Tingle was offside.

The Shanghai backs soon got going again and Bowerman rounded off the movement with a try which he was unable to convert.

The final score of the game came when Forbes came around the blind side of the scrum, sold the dummy and passed to Simmonds when tackled for the latter to score a try. Lloyd again failed with the kick.

Excellent Tackling

A feature of the game was the excellent tackling of the Shanghai players. There were no long runs by any of the Services' players simply because the moment a man received the ball he was tackled, and hard and low at that. Bidwell played a brilliant game and fed his three with beautiful passes. All the Shanghai three quarters played well and Brind was safe at full back. The forwards played exceptionally well; besides securing the ball in many scrums they took part in many attacking movements and backed up well. Poole and Younger were especially conspicuous.

The Services side was very disappointing and at no time looked like winning. The pack, of which great things had been expected, were outplayed but when they did give the ball to their backs it was only to see it dropped or missed altogether. Forbes did many good things but he lacked support outside. Walker either dropped his passes or ran across until he was over to the wing.

Irving's handling was not very good either. Buckley was too slow and Martin had an off day. Simmonds played very well on the wing, made the most of his opportunities and gained ground every time he had the ball. He very nearly scored another try but the ball crossed the dead ball line, before he could reach it. Hoskins handled and kicked well at fullback but was very poor in tackling. Linton, Lloyd, Suther and Hammett were the pick of the pack.

Dr. J. A. R. Selby refereed and the following were the teams:—

Shanghai:—B. Brind; J. Bowerman, O. V. Bird, W. E. Grieve, J. C. Jenkins and E. Blackwood; H. D. Bidwell and W. E. Tingle; H. W. Carter, J. R. Younger, P. J. Poole, J. S. Ritchie, G. S. Chambers, J. S. Lee and N. Hicks.

Services:—Pte. Hoskins (Army); Pte. Simmonds (Army); Lt. Martin (Army); Lt. Buckley (Navy); Lt. Irving (Navy); Lt. R. J. Walker (Army); Lt. Forbes (Navy); Comdr. Boome (Navy); Lt. Linton (Navy); Lt. C. Pascoe (Navy); Lt. Hebert (Army); Pte. Lloyd (Army); Lt. Brown (Navy); Lt. Suther (Navy); E. A. Hammett (Navy).

On Friday next, February 23 the Australian Universities Rugby Team will again be in Hong Kong and a fixture has been arranged between them and a Colony side. The match will be played on the Club Ground and will commence at 4.45 p.m. Seats may be reserved at the Anderson Music Co. as from Tuesday morning. Admission to the covered stand will be $1.50 and to the open stand $1, both including tax. Service men in uniform will be admitted for half-price. The side to represent the Colony has not been chosen yet and in view of the victory of the Australians over the All-Japan team it would not be surprising if they reversed the previous decision. They are travelling on the Kitanos Maru and will sail on Saturday morning for Australia. In view of the splendid exhibition given on the occasion of their last visit here all who did not have the opportunity of seeing them owing to the early time of starting on that occasion should do so this time and the match will start shortly before five o'clock.

AUSTRIAN UPHEAVAL EASIER MARTIAL LAW LIFTED IN SOME DISTRICTS

Socialists Report Losses As 1,730 Killed

VIENNA, FEBRUARY 18.
MARTIAL LAW HAS BEEN LIFTED IN TYROL, SALZBURG AND BURGENLAND.

It is now conservatively estimated that GOVERNMENT TROOPS IN AUSTRIA LOST TWO HUNDRED KILLED AND THE SOCIALIST'S ESTIMATE OF THEIR LOSSES IS 1,730 DEAD. BUT THIS FIGURE HAS NOT BEEN CHECKED AS MANY ESCAPED FROM BESIEGED FLATS TO THE UNDERGROUND SEWERAGE SYSTEM.—REUTER.

LIST OF CASUALTIES

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, February 18, 4.30 a.m.)

Vienna, Feb. 17. Official figures put the list of casualties of the three days' civil war at 101 killed and 319 wounded among Government bodies and 137 dead and 339 wounded on the insurgents' side. 147 killed and 373 wounded in Vienna alone.

Speaking before foreign Pressmen, Dr. Dollfuss bitterly complained of the exaggerated reports which had appeared in foreign papers concerning the fighting and the total number of victims. He also denied reports of serious differences of opinion between himself and the Heimwehr chiefs. Starhemberg and Fey, stressing that "victory" had united them more closely than ever. The methods employed by the Heimwehr differed somewhat from those of the Government.

Three more Socialist insurgents were hanged last night, bringing the total of executions in connection with the uprising up to seven. In Vienna a street car conductor named Swoboda was sentenced to death and hanged soon after for having been caught sniping, while two more executions took place at Sankt Poelten. Eight more death sentences were passed on Friday by various courts-martial, but in these cases the President of the Republic availed himself of the prerogative for mercy and commuted the death sentences to terms of imprisonment varying between twelve to twenty years. The offices of the Social Democratic party in the National Council Building have been sealed by the authorities pending the police enquiry at a later date.—Transocean Kuo Min.

GERMANY NOT INVOLVED

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press") (Copyright.)

London, Feb. 17. That the German National-Socialists are not involved in the civil war in Austria is emphasised by Hitler in an interview with the Daily Mail special correspondent, Mr. Ward Price, which is featured by the paper. Hitler went on to affirm that the National-Socialists sympathised neither with Dollfuss nor his Socialist foes as nothing durable would be obtained by violence. No adversary can be convinced by firing, on the contrary, such a method can only embitter him. The only possibility of winning over an adversary is to convince him, that had to be done in Germany. Had the German National-Socialists adopted Austrian methods there would have been many thousands of dead and wounded whereas, in fact, there were only 27 killed and 150 wounded in the disturbances at the outset of the National revolution in Germany, and not a single woman or child among the victims, while no houses were destroyed or shops plundered. The Chancellor declared that events in Austria would exert no influence on his attitude, since his policy was solely dictated by Germany's interests. This week's happenings justify the conclusion that on the one hand the Austrian Government authorities had been strengthened, but on the other hand the number of Austrian National-Socialists will increase.

Referring to the three Bulgarians who were acquitted at the Reichstag fire trial, but still in custody, Hitler said that the Court had pronounced its verdict, which must be respected.

In reply to a question Hitler declared that the Bulgarians will be released and expelled from Germany, adding, however, that in his opinion, the verdict of the Leipzig Court did not correspond with popular feeling. Commenting on the interview, the Daily Mail says in a leading article that it conveys the deep impression the honourable, straight course pursued by the Chancellor whose attitude is contributing towards diminishing world tension.—Transocean Kuo Min.

ADMIRATION EXPRESSED

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press") (Copyright.)

Brussels, Feb. 17. The women's section of the Belgian Socialist Party passed a resolution expressing "admiration for the heroic struggle of their Austrian sisters" and declaring their readiness "as a token of their gratitude to adopt the orphans of the Austrian revolutionists."—Transocean Kuo Min.

DISAPPROVAL IN LONDON

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press") (Copyright.)

London, Feb. 17. Means have been found to convey in diplomatic form to the Austrian Government the strong disapproval caused in London by recent events according to the Daily Herald. Reports that the British Government advised Dr. Dollfuss to deal leniently with his defeated opponents have been confirmed by British official quarters, according to the "Daily Telegraph."—Transocean Kuo Min.

NO FURTHER COMMITMENTS.

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press") (Copyright.)

London, Feb. 17. Under the heading "No further commitments on the European Continent," the "Daily Telegraph" protests sharply against the proposed three power declaration concerning the protection and independence of Austria, the text of which was submitted to the Foreign Office by the Italian Ambassador, Grandi.

The paper writes that this plan would have been unacceptable even if the tragic events in Austria had not occurred and Dollfuss had triumphed without bloodshed. The methods by which the revolt was suppressed, as well as the reports concerning the shootings and number of dead and wounded have rendered any discussion on such projects impossible. Further, the British Government would not be disposed to intervene if Austria, as a result of the plebiscite were to become National-Socialist.—Transocean Kuo Min.

QUAI D'ORSAY STATEMENT.

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press") (Copyright.)

Paris, Feb. 17. The Quai d'Orsay, published on Saturday night a statement which was intended also to appear simultaneously in London and Rome. The Austrian Government addressed itself to the Government of France, Great Britain and Italy in order to hear their opinions about the documents it had prepared and submitted to the three Governments named, setting forth the Austrian view of German interference with the internal affairs of Austria. Conversations that had taken place among the three Governments have had unanimous agreement as to the necessity of maintaining the independence and integrity of Austria as provided for by existing treaties.—Transocean Kuo Min.

POWERS DIFFER ON AUSTRIA

Paris, Feb. 18.

The simultaneous publication in London, Paris and Rome, of a communique proclaiming the united wish of the three Powers that the independence and integrity of Austria be respected has been proposed by the Italian Government with a view to forestalling possible reports of disarmament on the fundamental principles.

It appears that the replies from the three Powers to Chancellor Dollfuss's note announcing his intention of appealing to the League of Nations, revealed divergences of opinion, and that Italy particularly discouraged an appeal. It is pointed out here that such a declaration would not prevent Austria from using the League's procedure at any time she wishes.—Reuter.

A PROMPT EXECUTION

Vienna, Feb. 18.

The execution promptly followed the sentence death passed on Josef Stanek, Secretary of the Graz Chamber of Labour.—Reuter.

CLEMENCY RECOMMENDED

London, Feb. 17.

Messrs. Henderson and Citrine called at the Foreign Office this morning and had an interview with the Foreign Secretary about the Austrian situation. It is understood that Sir John Simon informed them that it was a fact as already hinted in newspapers that the British Minister at Vienna had on instructions of the British Government expressed to the Austrian Government the earnest hope that a policy of clemency and appeasement would be followed with reference to the recent grave disturbances.—British Wireless.

General Ho Gathers Adherents

Peking, Feb. 18.
After a lengthy conference with Mr. Hsu Yun-chang and Mr. Fu Tso-yi, Chairman of Shansi and Suiyuan, who arrived here yesterday evening, General Sun Tien-yung gave up his command, failing which a punitive expedition will be launched without delay.

Taking advantage of the presence of Generals Fu Tso Yi, and Hsu Yun-chang, General Ho Ying-ching, Minister of Military Affairs, summoned a conference of military leaders this morning at which measures against General Sun Tien-yung were discussed.

Their decisions were kept in the strictest secrecy, but it is believed that it was decided to proceed to a punitive expedition. Latest advices state that fighting outside Ninghsia City has practically ceased, but Sun Tien-yung is preparing a further attack.—Reuter.

BERLIN SHARE MARKET

Public Confidence Now Restored

Berlin, Feb. 17.

Week-end sharemarket closed unusually firm, buyers forming a very hopeful opinion about the general outlook. These views were induced partly by signing the new standard agreement on terms favourable to Germany, partly to the bright quarterly report of the Dyestuffs, showing increased wholesales all round, and partly by the prolongation of the German-Polish Trade Treaty till March 1.

Fixed interest securities sagged all round. Call Money 4 1/2 to 5 1/2. Young loan unchanged at 83. Reichsbank rose 1 to 167 7/8. Dyestuffs improved 1/2 to 131 5/8. Salzdorf Potash weakened 1/2 to 164 1/2. German Steel Trust advanced 1/2 to 42 7/8. German Mineral Oils jumped 1 3/8 to 109 5/8. Siemenshalske 1/2 higher to 148 1/2.

Prices showed a rising tendency throughout the whole week, which even the very disconcerting news that the foreign trade for January showed a large surplus import for the first time since 1930 could not check.

This shows that the public confidence is now almost completely re-established.

Almost all the economic news during the week was of a stimulating character, for instance, the official statement about the Reich's finances that showed a surplus of over 400 million marks in hand for financing unemployment projects, while the output of the Ruhr coal and consumption of electrical power increased substantially. The 32nd interest securities sagged the whole week, proving that the public now are more enterprising and willing to forego the certainty of small fixed terms on capital with a prospect of larger returns from dividends in industrial shares.

LIFE-SAVING ROCKET

German Invention For Ships In Distress

A new type of rocket, which can be fired from the water by the crews of sinking ships, was demonstrated recently at Bremen by the inventor, an engineer, named Poggensee.

The rocket is intended for life-saving purposes and shows flares that can be seen for over 20 miles. On being thrown into the water it is automatically lit and rises to a great height. At the top of its trajectory it throws off flares, attached to a parachute, which it is claimed will be visible for from 100sec. to 120sec.

At the demonstration a man was thrown overboard from a tug with the rocket, which exploded after 92sec. and shot straight into the air. Owing to low clouds the effect of the flares was not visible. Otherwise the weather is said to have no influence on the working of the rocket.
